Intrinsyc Announces Addition of Senior Intel Executive to Board of Directors

Vancouver, BC, March 16, 2004, Intrinsyc Software International, Inc. (TSX:ICS) announced it has appointed Glenda M. Dorchak as an independent member of its Board of Directors.

Ms. Dorchak is a highly regarded industry leader in the consumer electronics and technology industry. She is currently the Vice President of Intel's Desktop Products Group and General Manager of the Consumer Electronics Group. She is responsible for directing Intel's vision for consumer electronics in the digital home, and for Intel's initiatives in becoming the leading supplier of new technology and solutions for the consumer electronics industry. Ms. Dorchak was also previously the Vice President and Chief Operating Officer of the Intel Communications Group.

Ms. Dorchak began her career with IBM and served in a variety of executive positions in sales, marketing and planning, including marketing for the IBM Personal Systems Group. Prior to joining Intel, she was the Chairman and CEO of Value America, Inc., a leading online retailer of computers, software, office equipment, electronics, and entertainment content. She was also previously named one of the "Top 25 Executives of the New Millennium" by Computer Reseller News and can be seen speaking at industry events such as Intel's Developer Forum, SuperComm, DSL Forum and CES.

"Glenda's extensive background and experience in the consumer electronics industry will be invaluable to Intrinsyc's growth strategy" said Derek Spratt, President and Chief Executive Officer, Intrinsyc Software. "Her addition to our Board of Directors along with her industry and business knowledge is of tremendous benefit to Intrinsyc, and we look forward to gaining her valuable insight and input in driving our technology and business strategies forward".
