

Stars & Dogs

A selection of this week's stocks

PCS Wireless

Wireless phones and other Star Trek-like gizmos are all the rage, with everybody and their aunt trying to set the technology standard. When a bunch of heavyweights lined up behind a different method, and a big client cancelled an order, PCS tanked – even though the company says it does the new standard too.

